2021 GRADUATION CELEBRATION

MAY 15, 2021 | VIRTUAL
In 1819, the Reverend Luther Rice, Obadiah B. Brown, Spencer H. Cone, and Enoch Reynolds (all Baptist ministers) set in motion the reality of a college in the District. These men raised the needed funds to purchase land in the nation’s capital, petitioned the Congress for a charter, and began organizing a college.

On February 9, 1821, President James Monroe signed the Act of Congress which created the College. By design of the Congress, a special provision was included which required that “persons of every religious denomination shall be capable of being elected Trustees; nor shall any person, either as President, Professor, Tutor or pupil, be refused admittance, or denied any of the privileges, immunities, or advantages thereof, for or on account of his sentiments in matters of religion.”

The original seal was designed by James Peale in 1821, at the time of the founding of the Columbian College. This is the seal that the graduates are wearing today as medals. The seal features a Biblical lion lying down with a lamb and Greek text in an open book. The Greek translates to “In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God.”

In 1873, the name Columbian College was changed to Columbian University and the seal was changed slightly to reflect this. The Latin text around the outside was changed from “Columbiani Collegii” to “Universitatis Columbianae Sigillim.” In addition, some text was added to fill up the rest of the open book, since the Greek phrase only took up part of one page. In 1905, after the name changed to the George Washington University, the old seal was replaced by a completely new one.

The original Columbian College seal is currently on display in the Memorabilia Room of Gelman Library.
Congratulations, Graduates!

This day marks the beginning of a new and exciting journey. As a graduate of the Columbian College of the Arts and Sciences, you now carry with you the skills that our university’s namesake considered essential for responsible citizenship, skills that will help you be informed and effective global citizens. I encourage you to use your studies as a foundation for contributing to your communities and making a difference in whatever field you pursue.

As students of the liberal arts, you were driven by your desire to explore new ideas, to think broadly, be creative, ask questions and tackle new challenges. You took chances, combined your academic rigor and achievement with a spirit of exploration and adventure, and enhanced your intellectual and personal growth through GW’s unique connections across the nation’s capital and around the world.

During your time here, you collaborated with world-renowned scholars; benefited from research grants that positioned you to explore exciting innovations; and had access to the world’s top research and cultural institutions—from the Library of Congress to the National Institutes of Health to the Smithsonian. You’ve also had a front-row seat to history and have experienced some truly special “only at GW” moments.

The relationships you established will provide a strong network to keep you connected with this institution and the world beyond our campus. Wherever you go, be proud to call yourself a George Washington University graduate. It is a privileged group, one that will reward you both personally and professionally.

Please know that the GW community will always be open to you, wherever and however you choose to keep in touch. I encourage you to stay connected through our social media platforms and read about our continued progress—and your continued impact—in our alumni publications. When the opportunity arises, I also hope you come back to Foggy Bottom to attend an event, participate in a campus forum or visit a faculty member.

Congratulations and all my best wishes as you embark on a future of promise and unlimited possibility!

Sincerely,

Paul J. Wahlbeck
Dean, Columbian College of Arts and Sciences
Marsha Reeves leads KIPP Baltimore, a non-profit organization that operates KIPP Harmony Academy and KIPP Ujima Village Academy—elementary and middle public charter schools. KIPP Baltimore is part of a national network of college-preparatory and public charter schools seeking to prepare students with the skills and confidence to pursue the paths they choose.

Prior to pursuing her passion towards equity in public education, Reeves was an accomplished leader in the private context, including twenty years of broad legal experience in Fortune 500 companies and both start-up and public emerging technology companies. Reeves began her career as an associate at Latham & Watkins and served as associate general counsel for the Technology and e-Commerce Practice Group at Fannie Mae. She then became the vice president and general counsel for Bill Me Later and successfully led their sale to PayPal, where she continued to lead the legal team until 2014.

Her non-profit leadership experience also includes serving on the boards of the Baltimore Community Foundation and the Maryland Alliance of Public Charter Schools, as well as Columbian College’s National Council of Arts & Sciences. Reeves was a part of Baltimore’s 2018 Leadership Class and was a 2020 recipient of The Maryland Daily Record’s Top 100 Women award.

Reeves holds a bachelor’s degree in sociology from the George Washington University and a Juris Doctor from Harvard Law School.
Kimberly J. Morgan is a professor of political science and international affairs at the George Washington University. She has a B.A. from Northwestern University and an M.A. and Ph.D. in political science from Princeton University.

Dr. Morgan studies the politics shaping public policies in Europe and the United States. She has written about child care and parental leave policies, taxation, health insurance and long-term care for retirees, and, most recently, immigration policies.

Dr. Morgan is the author of two books, Working Mothers and the Welfare State: Religion and the Politics of Work-Family Policies in Western Europe and the United States (Stanford 2006) and The Delegated Welfare State: Medicare, Markets, and the Governance of Social Policy (Oxford 2011), and editor of three volumes. Her work has been supported by the National Science Foundation and Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, and she has been a visiting scholar at the Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars.

At GW, Dr. Morgan served as director of graduate studies in political science and is currently director of the European and Eurasian Studies program in the Elliott School of International Affairs. She received a teaching award from the Writing in the Disciplines program in 2018 and an Academic Advising Award in 2014.
Zoe Frankfurter grew up in Rockville, MD, only 14 miles from GW’s DC campus.

Zoe double-majored in economics and geography. She loves the activist perspective that geographers use to approach problems and was attracted to economics because it explained tangible problems like how vital medications are priced. Zoe found an intersection between geography and economics with developmental economics.

Zoe was eager to concentrate on these disciplines because, in a world where economics is used to justify a lot of misdoings, developmental economics aims to alleviate poverty. Two years ago she began working with her professor at the World Bank where she co-authored a paper on internet access in Sub Saharan Africa and conducted research on health care access in Sub Saharan Africa. At the World Bank, she became involved in the growing practice of harmonizing data. This process generates easily comparable datasets that provide poverty economists with ready-to-use data for research. It has also been invaluable during the COVID-19 pandemic in order to assess country-preparedness across the globe.

Zoe is a member of the national honor fraternity Phi Sigma Pi, where she was elected vice president. She also worked as the outreach coordinator for the Humanitarian Mapping Society and is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and the economics honors society Omicron Delta Epsilon. She is grateful for all of the dedicated professors that challenged her and for the opportunities GW provided. Zoe will never forget the time that she and her roommate tried to join the fencing team.

*Distinguished Scholar Honorable Mention: Sydney Isabella Austin, B.S. ’21

*Distinguished Scholars are chosen by the CCAS Faculty Undergraduate Studies Committee.
Ariel Putu Santikarma is a graduating senior in anthropology and women's, gender and sexuality studies at GW. She has been part of GW Anthropology's National Science Foundation project “Rituals in the Making,” studying changing ritual practices, creativity and care in the after(life) of inequality, structural violence and pandemic death. She was a community organizer with GW’s Asian American Student Association. As a writer, artist and researcher, she studies the anthropology of death and mass violence with an attention to the feminist politics of care, particularly in post-1965 Indonesia. In the fall, Ariel will pursue her Ph.D. in Anthropology at Yale University.

ROBERT W. KENNY PRIZE FOR INNOVATION IN TEACHING OF INTRODUCTORY COURSES

The Robert W. Kenny Prize for Innovation in Teaching of Introductory Courses is awarded annually to a faculty member in the Columbian College of Arts and Sciences who has shown innovation, creativity and originality in teaching an introductory course in the arts and sciences. The recipient, who is among the most talented of our teachers, teaches an introductory or basic course during the academic year in a novel and innovative way. Professors receiving this award have encouraged their students to think differently, allowing them to take advantage of their academic experience at the George Washington University. The Kenny Prize honors former Dean Robert Kenny and his special dedication to stimulating experiences for GW students and his emphasis on the importance of introductory courses as students undertake their studies in the liberal arts and sciences.

DIANE HARRIS CLINE is an ancient Greek historian and an associate professor of history and classical studies at the George Washington University. She won the Morton A. Bender Award for Excellence in Teaching, GW in April 2018, and in May 2017 she won the Columbian Prize for Teaching, awarded by Columbian College of Arts and Sciences. With a B.A. in Classics from Stanford and her Ph.D. in Classical Archaeology from Princeton, Cline is the author of two books, The Treasures of the Parthenon and Erechtheion (Oxford) and The Greeks: An Illustrated History (National Geographic). She has won two Fulbright awards for research in Greece and is also a triple recipient for NEH grants including a 2020 award from the Office of Digital Humanities. For the integration of the NARA collection into her Digital History course, she won the National Archives 2021 Citizen Archivist Award. In her cross-disciplinary research, she is a pioneer in the digital humanities, applying social network analysis since 2010 to study the social ties in ancient Greece.

SYLVAIN GUIRIEC is an assistant professor of physics at the George Washington University and since 2008 an astrophysicist at NASA. His research focuses on transient astrophysical sources and high-energy phenomena. He is a specialist in Gamma-Ray Bursts (GRBs - formation of stellar-mass black holes seen across the universe) and received several recognitions for his research, such as the Young Scientist Prize in Astrophysics in 2015 from the International Union of Pure and Applied Physics (IUPAP) and the prestigious Exceptional Scientific Achievement Medal from NASA in 2017 for "outstanding contribution to the Gamma-Ray Burst (GRB) research field in proposing a new GRB prompt emission model, which solves a long-lasting astrophysical problem, and in devising a relation that establishes GRBs as a new type of cosmological standard candles." Sylvain Guiriec is the deputy principal investigator of the Gamow Explorer mission concept, the project manager of a master agreement that he established between the NASA Kennedy Space Center and GW, and the director and founder of the Physics Department Innovation Lab. Sylvain Guiriec received his Ph.D. in Astrophysics in 2007 from the Montpellier 2 University, France. He obtained a master’s degree in astrophysics, planetary sciences and aerospace science from Paul Sabatier University and the Institut Supérieur de l’Aéronautique et de l’Espace (ISAE/SUPAERO), France. He also has a master’s degree in material sciences, an engineering degree in atomic and molecular modeling and simulation, as well as an engineering degree in aerospace mechanics from the Institut Supérieur des Matériaux du Mans, France.

THE COLUMBIAN PRIZE FOR TEACHING AND MENTORING ADVANCED UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS

The Columbian Prize for Teaching and Mentoring Advanced Undergraduate Students is awarded to a regular, full-time faculty member in the Columbian College of Arts and Sciences who demonstrates excellence in the teaching and mentoring of advanced undergraduate students. With this prize, we recognize exceptional achievement in one or more of the following areas of work: teaching an advanced undergraduate course, advising students, directing undergraduate research, designing a capstone experience or mentoring students who achieve departmental honors and other distinctions.

MATTHEW R. WILSON is an associate professor of theatre in the Corcoran School of the Arts & Design. He serves as faculty advisor for the Theatre BA as well as director of graduate studies for the MFA in Classical Acting, which is offered in partnership with the Tony Award-winning Shakespeare Theatre Company. Dr. Wilson’s creative scholarship has garnered two Helen Hayes Awards and seven nominations as an actor, director, fight director and playwright. His research as a theatre historian includes the forthcoming monograph Commedia dell’Arte in History and Performance from Routledge Press. https://corcoran.gwu.edu/matt-wilson
ERIC SAIDEL, an assistant professor of philosophy, earned his Ph.D. from the University of Wisconsin, and he has been teaching in the Philosophy Department at the George Washington University since 2000. His research involves the study of the mind-body problem, with special attention to the nature of nonhuman animal minds. He has published articles on psychological explanations of animal behavior, on mirror self-recognition and on the evolution of mind. In his time at GW he has enjoyed teaching many classes of inquisitive and challenging students and has had the distinct pleasure of supervising students who were completing their honors theses. He delights in seeing his students’ eyes light up when they finally understand a difficult concept, and he takes pride in his students’ achievements while at GW and after their graduation.

THE LUTHER RICE UNDERGRADUATE RESEARCH FELLOWSHIPS

Established by the Dean of the Columbian College in 2003, the Luther Rice Undergraduate Research Fellowships are designed to encourage and support research projects initiated by undergraduate students and performed under the mentorship of faculty sponsors. Luther Rice, one of four founders of the original Columbian College, which grew to become the George Washington University, was known for his tenacity of spirit and integrity of intellect. In this spirit, the Luther Rice Undergraduate Research Fellowships are intended to support critical inquiry and intellectual honesty through practical support of student research.

OFFICE OF THE VICE PRESIDENT FOR RESEARCH AND THE OFFICE OF THE PROVOST—GW UNDERGRADUATE RESEARCH AWARD

The Undergraduate Research Award, sponsored by the Office of the Vice President for Research (OVPR) and the Office of the Provost, seeks to promote discovery and inquiry-based education during the undergraduate experience at GW. The Undergraduate Research Award offers support for undergraduate student-initiated research carried out in collaboration with, and under the guidance of, at least one faculty member. Students who are awarded this research award have undertaken a significant, focused examination of an idea or an area of inquiry, which has resulted in work that could merit presentation or publication in a scholarly venue.

2020–21 Undergraduate Research Awardees:

The celebration program is meant to be a guide to the ceremony. Although every effort has been made to ensure its accuracy, the program is not an official record of an individual’s degree status. The Office of the Registrar of the university maintains the official list of all graduates.
Dear Graduate:

On behalf of the Columbian College National Council for the Arts and Sciences, I offer my congratulations on your significant achievement and welcome you to the George Washington University alumni community. Do not overlook the greatness of this accomplishment.

As an alumnus of this historic institution, I can fully appreciate the excitement of this very special moment in your lives and remember that feeling well. You are now a member of a select group of individuals, bonded by a college for which you will forever be proudly associated. I encourage you to remain involved and, more importantly, engaged in the life of the university as you enter this next phase of your life. The opportunities to make a difference are endless—from becoming an active member of the Alumni Association organizing regional and local alumni events, to mentoring a student, offering services as a career advisor or being a guest lecturer, and providing philanthropic support. Each of these types of engagement offers a unique and wonderful opportunity to continue showing your pride in the University and passing some of that GW spirit down to generations of students to come.

My work as a volunteer in the National Council—which is comprised of alumni, parents and friends who advise the Dean of the Columbian College—has been an incredibly rewarding experience for me. I hope you find similar avenues of engagement and have an impactful role in advancing GW’s promise and potential.

Finally, we recognize your time here has required a high level of personal dedication and financial commitment. We are grateful for your investment and hopeful that your degree will lay the groundwork for future success in whatever career you choose.

Again, congratulations! It is both an honor and a pleasure to welcome you as a graduate of the Columbian College of Arts and Sciences, and I hope to see you at a GW event soon.

Sincerely,

Jason B. Blank, Esq., B.A. ’02
Chair, Columbian College National Council for the Arts and Sciences
Partner, Buckley Sandler LLP
ALMA MATER

Hail alma mater, to thy spirit

guiding, Knowledge thy closest friend in its strength abiding, Pledge we fidelity ne'er its place resigning, Hail thee George Washington.
